The south-facing garden, complete with a studio home office, offers panoramic views of paddock land and ensures privacy and seclusion, with no immediate neighbours.

The Property

A large, gated gravel driveway provides ample off-road parking for numerous vehicles and also gives access to an attached double garage and the front of the property.

An attractive entrance porchway, forming part of the original cottage, gives access to the ground floor accommodation. To the far end of the cottage, lies a cozy and charming lounge, featuring oak beams and an open fireplace with inset log burner; this space opens into a single-story extension, which is used as a relaxing sitting room, positioned at the rear of the property. The sitting room comprises bi-folding doors; this breathtaking space benefits from stunning views over adjoining paddock land and is flooded with natural light.

The central dining hall is centered upon the inset log burner and also features oak beams and an attractive arched window. Leading from the dining hall, a rear hallway gives access to the garden, a cloakroom with WC and wash basin, storage cupboard and the staircase leading to first floor accommodation. A quirky addition to the hallway is a retained, refurbished well.
