Location: Woodmancote is a pretty village which lies on the lower slopes of Cleeve Hill. There are lovely walks and riding into near by countryside, well regarded infants and junior school, local stores, hairdressers, cricket club and welcoming village Inn's and restaurants. Bishops Cleeve village with its larger range of amenities is slightly further afield and is both popular families and professionals alike. The centre has become a hive for activity over recent years making it extremely easy for day to day living, with two large supermarkets, boutique shops, excellent eateries, and a lively café scene in addition to a Chemist, doctor's surgery and dentist. A church, active village hall, an excellent local secondary and three primary schools have further secured its status as one of the more sought-after locations. Cheltenham is only four miles away. A fashionable Spa town with excellent leisure, shopping and cultural offerings including the many festivals it hosts.
