Summary

This traditional detached farmhouse is nestled in the picturesque Fife countryside, enjoying far-reaching views—just five minutes by car from the thriving village of Markinch, which offers a good range of everyday shops, a primary school, and a train station. The four-bedroom residence retains its elegant period character while offering excellent scope for modernisation and development. Well-proportioned throughout, the property features four double bedrooms, two south-facing reception rooms, a bright breakfasting kitchen, a large utility room, and a bathroom. The home also benefits from excellent internal and external storage, while the generous grounds boast sunny gardens, a paddock, a driveway, and a detached garage/workshop. Extras: The property is sold as seen.

Bellfield Farmhouse, Markinch,
Glenrothes, Fife

This is an aerial photograph of a rural property in Fife, Scotland. The central focus is Bellfield Farmhouse, a two-story stone building with a grey roof and a red door. To its right is a long, single-story stone outbuilding with a red-tiled roof. Further right, a larger building is under construction, featuring a grey roof and blue scaffolding. A red car is parked on a gravel area near the outbuilding. The property is surrounded by vast, golden-brown harvested fields. In the background, there are rolling hills, a body of water, and distant mountains under a blue sky with scattered white clouds. A white text box with the Thorntons logo and property details is overlaid on the image.
