DESCRIPTION

The property is enviably located just a five-minute walk from the exclusive Babington House and benefits from a peaceful yet accessible setting. Set back from the road, Station House is framed by a charming brick wall and wrought-iron gate, with a path leading through a well-established front garden to the entrance. Inside, the home opens into a small ante-hall, giving access to a front-facing study complete with a Victorian fireplace and large window. The welcoming sitting room features wooden floors, a corner log burner, and garden views. This flows seamlessly into the open-plan kitchen and dining area, with exposed ceiling beams, a large gas range cooker, and views over the south-easterly facing garden. A generous utility room and downstairs WC complete the ground floor.

Upstairs, the property offers three well-proportioned bedrooms and a family bathroom. Many rooms retain original fireplaces and enjoy far-reaching countryside views.

OUTSIDE

Outside, the south-easterly facing garden is private and fully enclosed, bordered by mature trees. A gated driveway to the side of the house leads to a double garage, a workshop, and a two-bedroom log cabin - ideal for guest accommodation, multi-generational living, or as a holiday let (subject to permissions). There is ample parking for multiple vehicles.

Station House combines period charm, modern family living, and outstanding location - just moments away from the popular Colliers Way walk and cycle path, and from the culture and community of Mells, and the amenities of nearby Frome.
