Externally

The gardens at Bryncelyn are a very attractive feature and need to be seen to be fully appreciated. The front garden combines a selection of mature shrubs and climbers including Rhododendrons, Magnolia, Wisteria and Clematis creating a beautiful setting. To the side of the house there are numerous raised beds with a selection of vegetables and flowers, a rockery, wooden garden shed and gravel sitting area. There is a long border of trees and shrubs, including Camellia, Pieris, Weigelas, Hydrangeas, perennials and a lawned area to the rear of the property.

Grounds

The driveway provides ample off road parking and leads to a lawned area incorporating a variety of fruit trees, mature bushes, raised borders, hexagonal potting shed with pergola and access to a paddock with further potential for development or the keeping of a small number of animals. To the side garage a fenced area leads to the woodstore and wood bunker.

0.65 of an acre total area with part of this being the paddock to the side of the property, level land with mature hedge line.
