The Opportunity

This is a truly rare chance to craft a unique countryside retreat in one of Surrey's most desirable villages. Set within approx. 0.19 acres, planning permission (Ref: WA/2023/02489) has already been granted to transform a character stable into a stylish one-bedroom home (c.634 sqft), complete with open-plan living, a study, bathroom and cloakroom. Importantly, permitted development rights remain, currently offering exceptional scope to extend further to create a larger residence. Whether you're seeking an idyllic one-bedroom bolthole or envisioning something more ambitious, this site provides both flexibility and charm.

The Location

Dockenfield is a picture-perfect Surrey village, known for its welcoming community, pub, church and regular events. Everyday essentials can be found in nearby Frensham (shop, post office and the renowned Holly Bush pub), while the vibrant Georgian market town of Farnham is just six miles away, offering boutique shopping, fine dining and cultural experiences. Outdoor enthusiasts are spoilt for choice with Alice Holt Forest, Frensham Ponds and Bourne Woods all nearby – perfect for walking, cycling, sailing and riding. There are also numerous golf and tennis clubs within easy reach. For commuters, Farnham station provides fast services into London Waterloo in under an hour, while the A3, M3 and airports are all easily accessible.

Additional Notes

Red line plan for identification purposes only.

Planning Reference WA/2022/02347 has also been granted for the creation of two striking dwellings to the east of the property, adding further appeal to this evolving setting.
