ORCHARD WAY, CORBY GLEN

Orchard Way is a development of properties built by award winning builders, Allison Homes situated in the picturesque village of Corby Glen. Designed with sustainability in mind, each property features solar panels and EV charging points, amongst other energy-efficient features, each property designed with signature craftsmanship, attention to detail and high specification.

Corby Glen is nestled into the Lincolnshire countryside and provides easy access to the nearby market towns of Bourne, Stamford and Grantham but the village itself has its own range of amenities including two village shops, two pubs, a weekly post office, two doctors surgeries and library. There is strong sense of community with various leisure activities including a historic society, walking club and a bowls clubs. Today, it still celebrates the popular tradition of the annual Sheep Fair which is one of the oldest in the country! Corby Glen is also close the A1 making it ideal for commuters needing excellent travel connections.

The village features highly regarded local schools; the Corby Glen Community Primary School and the Charles Read Academy, both of which cater well for families.

The village green and a well maintained playground are popular spots for local residents of all ages and the beautiful parish church with its 15th century wall paintings and the medieval market cross make this location a perfect choice for families looking for their new home.
