A rare opportunity to acquire an attached house in need of modernisation, set in a highly sought-after location within the village of Ashurst. This much-loved traditional family home is coming to the market for the first time in 53 years, offering wonderful potential for the next owners to update and enjoy.

Ashurst is a village in the New Forest, which together with Colbury hamlet makes the parish of Ashurst and Colbury Within the village are several local stores, post office, and several restaurants and pubs.

The ground floor features two charming reception rooms with a dual aspect, both benefiting from excellent natural light and a pleasant southerly outlook. There is also a kitchen and a useful boot room—ideal for storage and for returning from forest walks with muddy boots.

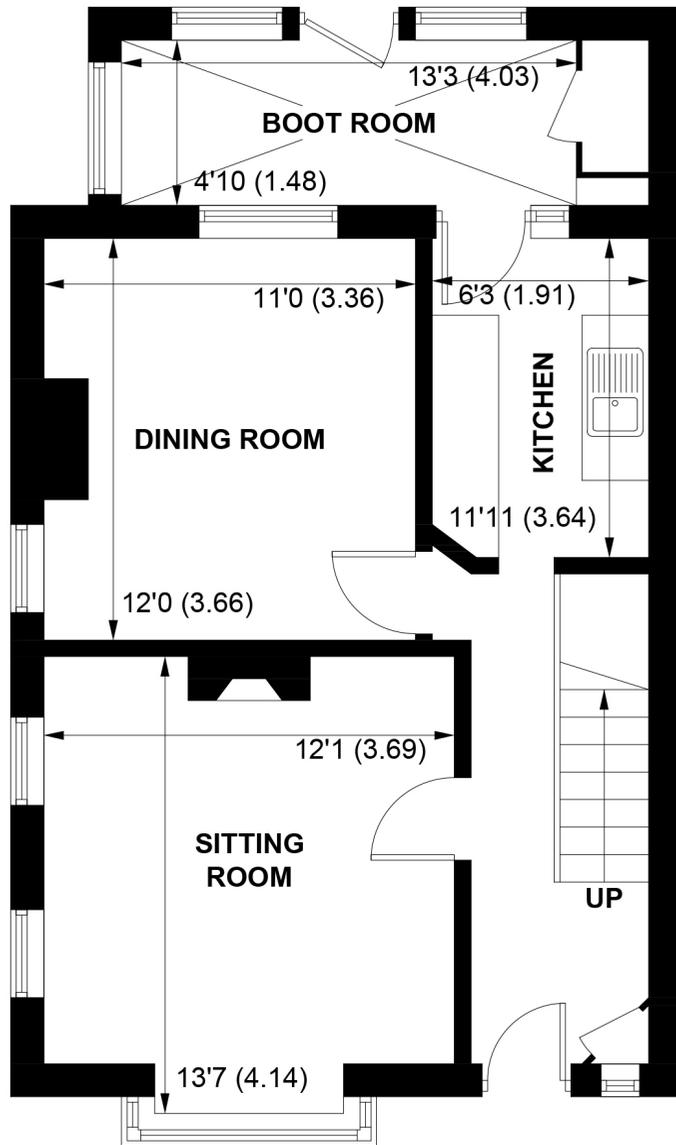

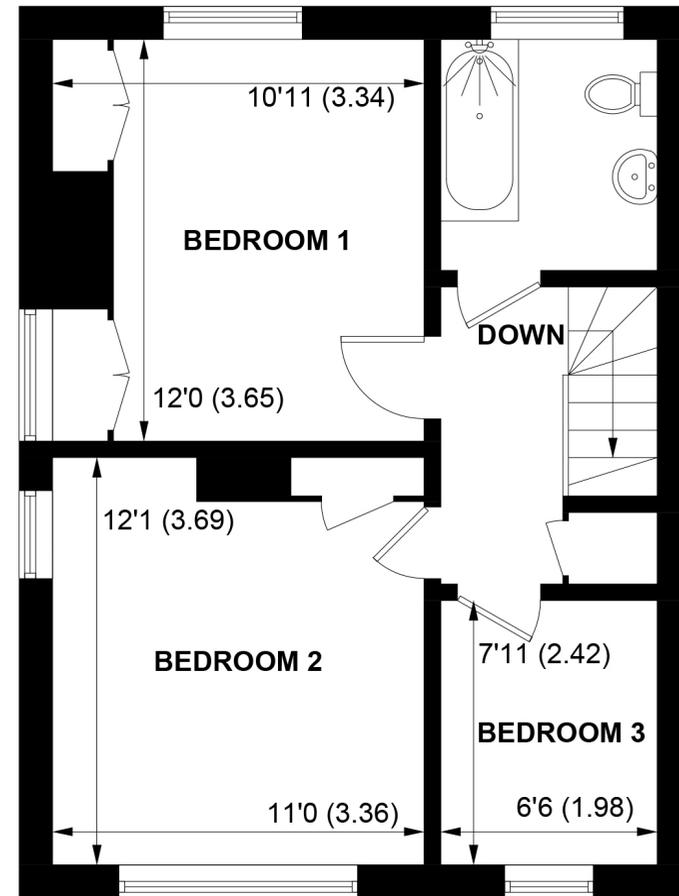

Upstairs, the property offers three well-proportioned bedrooms and a family bathroom. The south-facing garden extends to approximately 100 feet, providing a generous outdoor space with plenty of scope for landscaping or further enhancement. Planning permission has previously been granted for a garage.

This is a home with character, space, and significant potential. We strongly recommend an early internal inspection to fully appreciate the size, setting, and possibilities this beautiful property has to offer, and to avoid disappointment.
