Building a better and more sustainable future

Asterwood is another high-calibre project from Hills Residential - specialists in creating sophisticated developments that enhance the surrounding area and raise the bar for new homes in the region.

From first glance, Asterwood reflects a careful, deliberate approach to design. Properties are positioned perfectly within thoughtfully configured plots arranged around two graceful oval sections connected by a broad avenue. With an abundance of green space everywhere you look, this distinctive design lends the development an organic feel while also encouraging a sense of community, allowing residents to enjoy a combination of both privacy and sociability.
