Step Inside

High Street

One the High Street, Baldock! Number 1 is an interesting and intriguing Grade II listed Georgian town house built in the latter part of the 1700's. This five bedroom, three storey house was originally a drapers and greengrocers and home to three children and eleven staff and in the 1861 census the name 'Hine and Son' appears. This fascinating house has a garden on the first floor that leads from what would of been the drawing room and is now a vast lounge and dining area. This intriguing home reveals itself at every twist and turn; in the entrance are the initials of the brick makers who built the house along with the names of Oliver and Penn who commissioned the building, they were local businessmen who set up a brewery in Sun Street.

About Baldock

High Street

This Georgian house is approximately 2700 square feet with the five bedrooms and four reception rooms spread over three floors plus the cellar; ideal for wine enthusiasts. The beautiful staircase rises to a large study area and then onto a beautiful lounge and dining room that would have been the drawing room and the tall sash windows flood the room with light and overlook the majestic wide high street. On this floor there are two double bedrooms, a home office and family bathroom. The utility room and kitchen wrap around the garden terrace and can also be accessed from the lounge. There is a spiral staircase to the first floor bedroom and ground floor. Stairs lead to the top floor where you will find two double bedrooms, a snug and a further shower room.
