Description

Rodwell Hall is a substantial Tudor Gothic style Victorian residence that formed part of the original Rodwell Hall Mansion. This fine home is believed to have been built and remodelled in the late 1800's and was owned by a local Wool Merchant.

The property has had many improvements carried out by the present owners, however, still requires ongoing enhancements.

This gracious home is in a favoured part of the town being just off Victoria Road. This area shares a selection of fine Victorian homes.

An arched entrance door gives access to the main vestibule and main hallway with original tiled flooring, natural stone wall and staircase. The kitchen / dining room has a range of painted units with wood tops, tiled flooring, and feature wood ceiling.

The living room has two large windows that overlook the main garden along with a fireplace and stove. A garden room was added in the 1970's and has doors to the garden. Cloakroom and ample storage.

The galleried first floor landing has exposed wood flooring with panelled doors giving access to the four bedrooms with the main room having an impressive Mullion Stone Bay window.

The main bathroom has been upgraded and has feature panelled walling. Outside are pleasing grounds that are mainly laid to lawn and incorporate various plants and shrubs and surround by Stone walling and part fencing. At the foot of the garden is a detached single garage and parking space.

Viewing comes highly recommended to realise the full potential of this substantial residence.
