Description

Nestled within the delightful cul-de-sac of Owen Close comes this superb, terraced house. This property would make the perfect starter home for a first-time buyer, with its generous offering of living accommodation, tucked away position and its wealth of practical benefits such as the double width driveway, large enough to park two cars and even contains an EV charger for electric vehicles. On the ground floor, the home briefly comprises a sitting room, kitchen/diner, and the wonderful addition of a brick-based conservatory, which features UPVC double-glazing. The first-floor level features two well-proportioned bedrooms, which are both big enough to fit a double bed, and there is a modern, three-piece family bathroom. The private rear garden is easy to maintain, as it's largely established to slabbed paving with decorative slate chipping borders, and even features a timber shed for external storage, as well as a pathway at the rear which leads to the front.
