Set in a semi-rural location with delightful countryside views, this stunning cottage blends traditional features with contemporary living. Entering through an enclosed porch, the beautifully presented accommodation includes a welcoming living room with multi-fuel stove, charming fitted kitchen/breakfast room, and a wonderful dining/family room (with adjacent cloakroom/WC plus useful utility). This great space features a vaulted ceiling with skylights and a bank of glazing to the rear curvature to enhance the natural light and create a spacious, modern feel, whilst the external pitched lead roof blends beautifully with the traditional exterior. There are two bedrooms to the first floor, along with a bathroom. Character features include diamond leaded windows, with sympathetic improvements including 'Fired Earth' tiling (as stated). The enclosed rear garden leads to two versatile outbuildings (great as a studio or home office, or may offer potential for conversion to an annexe - subject to planning regulations). Whilst enjoying the benefits of an escape to the countryside, commuter links are easily accessible via road and rail: Junctions 12 or 13 of the M1 are both within 4.5 miles and Flitwick and Harlington mainline stations are 3.4 and 4.7 miles respectively. The EPC rating for this ex-Duke of Bedford cottage built in 1850 is F.
