A charming and beautifully presented period house of rare quality in a glorious riverside setting with generous gardens and potential to extend. The house has been lovingly refurbished in recent years combining modern convenience with many attractive traditional features.

The Property

Gearys Cottage is believed to date from the 18th Century and is furnished with a wealth of traditional features including exposed beams, brickwork and timber doors which have been carefully amalgamated into a practical and highly comfortable home. While currently offering ample accommodation the current owners obtained planning permission several years ago to further extend the house to the rear to create additional ground floor space and a further bedroom on the first floor. While this has now lapsed it provides a guide to what could potentially be created subject to re-acquiring the necessary consents. Plans are available from the selling agent.

The Property continued . . .

The front door opens to a welcoming hall with stairs rising to the first floor. There is a spacious sitting room featuring a bay window from which there are views of the river as well as an open fireplace inglenook and exposed ceiling beams. Also on the ground floor is a kitchen / dining room that runs the full length of the building and incorporates fitted cupboards and a gas fired 'Esse' rayburn-style cooker. There is room for a dining table and the exposed brick chimney breast is fitted with a cosy wood burning stove.

Also on the ground floor is a wc, study area and utility room with counter top, space for a washer/dryer.

Upstairs there is a delightful master bedroom complete with exposed beams, chimney breast with feature fire place, wide wooden floorboards and a luxurious bath positioned under one of the windows.

Bedroom 2 also has an attractive chimney breast, floorboards and exposed beams and is adjacent to a separate shower room complete with airing cupboard.

Stairs rise to the second floor where there is a hugely welcoming third bedroom perfect for twin beds amongst the ancient timbers of the building and screened from the stairs by an original wooden latch door. There is an adjoining bathroom with views to the river.

Grounds & Gardens

The house is approached over a gravel drive with parking for several cars as well as a single, detached garage. There is a quintessential English cottage garden to the front of the house with a mature walnut tree, hedging and shrubs marking the boundary and providing complete screening and privacy. The majority of the gardens, which in total extend to over half an acre, lie to the rear of the house and are mostly level, laid to lawn and planted with mature fruit trees of both apple and pear. There are many glorious spots in the garden where one can sit and watch the river from its predominantly south westerly aspect. The garden also contains several outbuildings, the first of which contains a home office with separate store room. There is also a brick privy which would benefit from some updating.

Situation

Geary's Cottage sits in a superb elevated position with gardens extending to 0.57 acres which provide beautiful views across the Lymington River. The house is conveniently positioned for access to the facilities of Lymington High Street as well as the open spaces of the New Forest National Park which lies to the north. The proximity to the river is a significant asset and the current owners acquired a permit to moor a tender on the water opposite the entrance to the house as well as taking kayaks and paddle boards out on the river. The wide open spaces of the New Forest National Park lie just to the north and offer endless walks and cycle rides. Lymington has a picturesque high street with a weekly market as well as a range of independent shops, cafes and restaurants. It is a renowned sailing centre with two sailing clubs alongside a choice of marinas. The house, being close to Lymington, qualifies to apply for a river mooring for a boat although this could be subject to a waiting list.
