DESCRIPTION

Believed to date back to the turn of the 20th Century, the property was once the home and work place of a well-known local toolmaker, who made garden tools in his potting shed. As his business grew, so did Steeds Terrace, which now comprising four cottages.

Offering well-proportioned living accommodation the property is entered through the part glazed porch with a further door opening into the sitting room. The focal point of this room is the exposed brick fireplace with inset multi-fuel burner. A staircase rises to the first floor and doors lead to the kitchen / dining room and a second reception room, which is currently used as a second sitting room. This spacious room has shelved recesses to either side of the former chimney breast and a window opening through to the dining area. Located at the rear of the property and enjoying views over the garden and beyond is the kitchen / dining room which is fitted with a range of units incorporating a double Belfast sink and solid wooden work surfaces. There is space for a freestanding range cooker, under counter fridge, and a washing machine. At the far end, is the dining area with French doors onto the terrace with views over the garden, and a personal door into the garage.

On the first floor, the landing splits to give access to the two double bedrooms, both with exposed floorboards and countryside views. One of the bedrooms has an open fronted fitted wardrobe ideal for storing all ones clothes and shoes. The third bedroom is currently used as a study and would be ideal as a nursery or dressing room.
