An elegant and superbly presented six bedroom, mid Victorian, grade two listed, terraced family house benefiting carefully restored period features and a contemporary specification creating a luxury family home of real distinction. Internally the living space is both spacious and enjoys excellent natural light throughout. The extensive accommodation is over three floors and offers flexible space ideal for those who may require home offices or even a partly self contained accommodation.

Walking through the house one is struck by its carefully considered décor offering a mix of formal and more relaxed living spaces.

The house has gas central heating throughout run from two boilers.

The house is located on a highly regarded leafy residential street within close proximity of the nearby city centre, University City Campus and Royal Hospital while transport links are provided by road, Park Lane bus station and nearby Metro station.

Certain to be considered a rare opportunity in which viewing is considered essential.
