PROPERTY DESCRIPTION

Nestled in a private, elevated position, Brynmor enjoys an enviable degree of tranquility. One of only five residences sharing this exclusive lane, the property offers a rare sense of privacy and seclusion. A mere five-minute stroll, almost as the crow flies, through a nearby public footpath, leads to the golden sands of Machroes beach. This direct access allows for spontaneous dips in the sea, leisurely beach walks, and the simple joy of coastal living at its finest. The proximity to the beach, accessed via a charming footpath, creates a seamless connection with the natural beauty of the Llyn Peninsula.

Brynmor's elevated vantage point provides not only stunning bay views but also a breathtaking panorama of the wider landscape. On clear days, the majestic peaks of Snowdon rise in the distance, a testament to the rugged beauty of North Wales. The expansive views are a daily spectacle and a constant reminder of the property's unique and privileged location.

This cherished property has remained within the same family for generations, imbuing it with a rich history and a deep connection to the land. Currently utilized as a second home, Brynmor also boasts a well-established holiday let business, offering a lucrative opportunity for those seeking to share its idyllic charm. The enduring legacy of family ownership is palpable, creating a warm and welcoming atmosphere that resonates throughout the home.

Set within a generous plot, Brynmor is surrounded by mature gardens that provide a verdant oasis of tranquility. The expansive grounds offer ample space for relaxation and recreation, with established trees and shrubs creating a sense of privacy and seclusion. To the rear of the property, a sun-trap terrace provides the perfect setting for al fresco dining and sunbathing. This sheltered space, bathed in sunlight throughout the day, offers a private haven for unwinding and appreciating the natural beauty of the surroundings.
