Further Information:

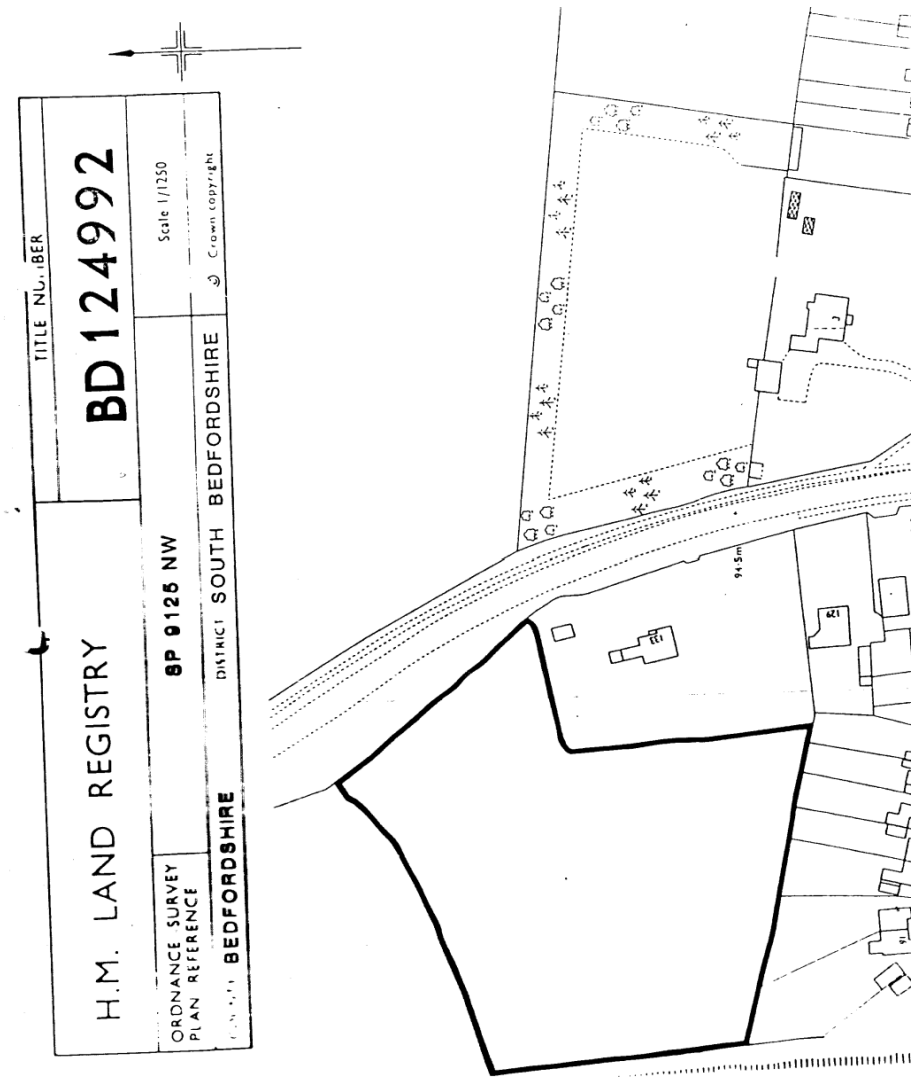

1.2 Acres of Freehold Land for sale that may have several uses. These could include a Forest School, or perhaps for use to offset as Bio Net Gain or Carbon Capture, offers would also be considered from the travelling community. The site is adjacent to 133 Stoke Road, Linslade, Bedfordshire, LU7 2SR. Several applications have failed for residential use, but the land sale would be subject to a 20 % overage clause in perpetuity should you gain residential use for perhaps social housing.

The land may have potential to be registered under the Woodland Carbon Code (WCAG) that could have the potential to sell Carbon Units to the Government over the next 35 years; further information is available via UK carbon capture, usage and storage - GOV.UK (www.gov.uk), with also the potential for tree planting and perhaps offsetting the requirement for Bio Net Gain Diversity on development site for new homes.

The land does not have water and power, but the owner is open to discussing various uses.
