The house itself sits centrally on the plot with countryside views to all sides, having off road parking for several cars, as the tarmac driveway leads down the side and rear of the property leading you to the detached single garage, the plot has been divided via hedges and trees to give natural areas for gardens, planting areas with greenhouse and shed, and once upon a time substantial allotments, while still allowing approximately a third of the plot to be separated with post and wire fencing for the current owners sheep to graze on. Internally the property may require some general modernisation throughout but offers a good size fitted kitchen with views over the fields to the rear along side formal living room and dining room a further snug, porch entrance and five meter conservatory, while the first floor offers three good size double bedrooms along side the family bathroom.
