HOPE COVE

The Lanterns are situated directly above Outer Hope, and the beaches and pubs of Hope Cove are just a couple of minutes' stroll southwards along the coastal path. Turning north, the beautiful beaches of Thurlestone and Bantham are a 2 and 4 mile walk along the coast, or a very short drive.

Hope Cove is a hidden gem. The village has a laid back and quiet feel, with two beautiful and easily accessible beaches which are perfect for surfing, paddle boarding and sailing. The mix of sandy and rocky terrain make the beaches ideal for families who want to build sandcastles and explore rockpools, and the harbour wall is a great spot for crabbing. There are lifeguards on duty during the summer months and the water quality has been designated as excellent, with seals often seen from the beaches.

If you like eating out, Hope Cove has two excellent village pubs and a handful of restaurants including the highly recommended Lobster Pod Bistro. The small village shop means you don't have to leave the tranquillity of Hope Cove if you don't want to. If you do want a change of scene then the bars and restaurants of Salcombe are a short drive or taxi ride away, and the nearest supermarket is in Marlborough.

Hope Cove hosts 'Hope Cove Week' each August bank holiday, this a lively and fun family festival with lots going on for all the family to enjoy.
