

Bucklands End Nailsea

Seahawk was so named by the property's first owner, a naval man, when it was built in 1976. Purchased by the current owners some 10 years later, the property has proven to be a much loved family home for nearly forty years. Located in, arguably, one of Nailsea's finest and highly regarded private Cul de Sacs, overlooking Backwell Lake, this unique split level residence is arranged over three floors and approached through the magnificent South facing gardens.
