The Property

This substantial home extends to approximately 2,660 sq ft and has been built to an exacting standard. Of particular note is the thoughtfully designed layout, with the principal living accommodation arranged on the first floor to fully capitalise on the exceptional sea views. The main reception room enjoys a striking outlook and opens onto a generous terrace with a retaining balcony, creating an ideal space to enjoy both sunrise and sunset. Double doors also connect the kitchen to this area, allowing the views to be appreciated from within and, when opened, creating a superb open-plan space for entertaining. A strong sense of space is evident throughout the property. While the high-quality finish and outstanding coastal views immediately impress, careful attention has also been paid to practicality.

The home features a useful utility room, along with ample built-in storage. The principal bedroom and bedroom two are located on the ground floor both enjoying the convenience of an ensuite shower room. Unlike many coastal properties, where outlooks can be compromised by car parks or busy promenades during the summer months, this home enjoys open meadowland between the property and the sea with private access from the rear garden to the coastal path. In addition, the house is set slightly back from the coastline and is naturally sheltered by the lie of the land, offering protection from the elements. The position within the development is both private and discreet. In our opinion, the layout of the property is exceptionally well balanced and would suit buyers seeking generous accommodation without the burden of a much larger home. The bedroom configuration easily accommodates visiting family and guests, while the low-maintenance and secure nature of the development makes the property equally appealing as a second home.
