Garden Description by Vendor

The agent asked the vendor to describe the garden in his own words - the garden has many different aspects to it and only the owner could do this justice:

'The back garden is a very private, relaxing area, which has been designed as a series of garden rooms, and as you leave the house through the back door, you walk onto the first patio area. This is bordered by shrubs, a low privet hedge and a brick wall for privacy. The patio is currently home to children's play equipment, but, even with this in place, there is still ample room to sit and relax.

If you wish to leave the property from the back of the house, you can do so from the patio through a wooden side gate which leads to the block-paved driveway, or you can walk along a passageway bordered by a honeysuckle-clad wall with a variety of ferns along the base of it on one side, and a privet hedge on the other. At the end of this, there is another wooden gate, and this allows you access to the front doors of the double garage.

However, if you wanted to stroll through the garden, you could step up from the patio to a cottage garden area, consisting of four flower borders with a small lawn in the centre. Straight ahead from this area, you will find a good-sized brick summer house which has been used as an outdoor dining room and has even had a large children's pool in it!

From the cottage garden, instead of going to the summer house, you can walk through a rose-covered arch to the wildlife area, where you can sit and relax in an arbour on decking overhanging a pond. Around you are lots of flowers and plants chosen to attract and benefit local wildlife.

From this location, one option is to follow a path down into a small and secretive native woodland area, surrounded on all sides and above by trees and shrubs. On one side, there is also a bank with ferns growing, whereas on the other, there is a slight drop, reminiscent of a mini woodland valley.

However, from the wildlife area, you may choose to venture further down the garden by walking through a Wisteria-laden pergola to another patio area which offers plenty of sites for seating and small tables. Growing against the south-facing brick wall in this area is a fig tree which regularly produces delicious fruit.

Spanning the width of the patio is a narrow formal pond which provides the relaxing sound of running water. As you cross the pond on the paved bridge, you enter a tropical area. Straight ahead, you can then walk down steps into a sunken decking area, perfect for comfortable garden furniture; this is surrounded above by patio and further seating. Here you can enjoy the peace, surrounded by tropical plants such as banana plants, giant canna lilies, bamboo and a tree fern. This area also allows you access to one side of the double garage through a rear door.'
