GENERAL DESCRIPTION

The placing of Galltgydr on the open market provides Prospective Purchasers with an opportunity of acquiring what is considered to be a delightfully positioned and diversely appealing country property with many interesting qualities. The property has healthy prolific pastures which are chiefly gently sloping including various pockets of woodland and conservation areas that could be further developed with those specific interests, if so desired by a Prospective Purchaser.

The residence is a particular feature of the property having been extensively extended and renovated by the existing Owners over recent times. The accommodation has specific emphasis on contemporary living but at the same time offers character accommodation with many retained features.

The farm buildings are currently equipped for Equestrian purposes with good quality stables and large general purpose building suiting a number of alternative uses.

The property in total extends to some 18.2 acres or thereabouts. The farmhouse is traditionally built of stone and slate with character accommodation, multi fuel central heating and full double glazing providing more specifically:-
