Property Summary

Bryn Martin is an attractive former dairy farm extending to approx. 58 acres in total, with an excellent range of modern farm buildings and a traditional stone former cowshed with live planning consent for conversion into residential dwelling.

The land is predominantly classified as freely draining slightly acid loamy soils, with small areas of permeable seasonally wet acid loamy and clayey soils and is classified as Grade 3b according to the Agricultural Land Classification Maps.

The farm is offered For Sale for the first time in over 60 years as a whole or in 3 lots. Rare does a block of land and buildings of this nature become readily available on the open market.

Situation

The property lies on the periphery of the sought after village and community of Gelli Aur (Golden Grove), in a south facing position, with commanding views of the surrounding Carmarthenshire countryside and Black Mountains.

The property benefits from excellent access and frontage onto an unclassified adopted highway, situated circa 500 meters north of the A476 highway and lies 4 miles equidistant from the popular market town of Llandeilo, to the north – east and the large village of Cross Hands, to the south – west, both of which provide an extensive range of amenities and services. The A48 – M4 Link Road at Cross Hands also provides excellent road links along the M4 corridor and beyond.

Lot 1 (Guide Price £385,000)

An excellent renovation project / small holding with potential set in 7.10 acres.

The former cowshed of traditional stone construction under a pitched slate roof benefits from live planning consent for conversion into a 3-bedroom residential dwelling, providing an excellent blank-canvas renovation project for the most discerning buyer.

A further useful range of modern farm buildings are set below, consisting of cubicle housing and covered silo's, serviced by a concrete lined and earth banked slurry pit, in addition to a former herringbone parlour and collecting yard, with adjoining dairy.

The land is situated to the west and south of the farmstead, being south facing and gently sloping in nature and contained in two useful enclosures, benefiting from stockproof fencing.

The land is laid to productive pasture utilised for grazing and cutting purposes, with a small area of improvable grazing. A parcel of mixed broadleaved woodland on the southern boundary along the riverbank edge provides a useful shelter belt for livestock during summer months and access to seasonal natural water supply.

The property benefits from excellent frontage, with several gated access points from the highway into the farmstead and land.
