About the Property

As soon as you enter the property you are immediately aware of the design elements of this home. An incredibly large reception hallway gives a wonderful feeling of space, and a contemporary staircase rises to the first floor where the main living accommodation is situated.

The main living accommodation (as can be seen from the images) is beyond impressive with a feature vaulted ceiling running the entire length of the room. Although this area is open which creates a feeling of space and light, there are separate and clearly defined areas for lounging, dining and cooking. For entertaining, this room is about as good as it gets in our opinion. Whilst Poole Harbour can be seen from inside the property, in the Summer months there would be nothing better than opening the doors from the living area to the retained terrace and enjoying a sundowner with the open water in the background.

Sensibly the first floor has a large bedroom with a private ensuite and there's even a glass Juliet balcony with double doors that overlooks the rear garden. If you want a degree of separation the bedroom accommodation for visiting guests or older children offers you exactly that. The three further bedrooms (all of which are comfortable doubles with private ensembles) are located on the ground floor and each enjoys doors that open out to the gardens. There is also a utility room on the ground floor and a courtesy door leads through to the integral garage.

The garden is hard landscaped for ease of maintenance with a variety of mature and well-established planting. Steps rise from the rear garden to a further sun terrace which again is surrounded by established planting
