A unique, 17th Century, cobb cottage set in grounds approaching 1/3 acre and offering three bedrooms as well as three reception rooms, generous outbuildings and double garage with the scope to create a home income and being offered without a forward chain.

Property Description

Thought to have been constructed in the early 17th Century, this cobb Cottage offers one of the most unique cottage propositions for its locality and was part of the Canford Estate, whilst Edward Arrowsmith presided over the trust. It was discharged from the Estate in 1923, at which point it formed a semi-detached pair of cottages (pictures available) and soon after was merged to create a single dwelling. A sizeable extension was added in the mid 1930's and helps form the versatile accommodation which is offered today. The accommodation comprises a generous living room, separate dining room, kitchen with breakfast room, study, utility room and wc to the ground floor, with three bedrooms a family bathroom/shower room and a separate WC, to the first floor. During the current vendors tenure, the home has been re-glazed with double glazing, re-thatched in 2010 and re-ridged in 2022 and is currently not protected or listed.

Gardens and Grounds

The home is approached via a five bar farm-style gate which gives access to a compressed gravel driveway that leads up towards the left hand side of the home. There is a formed turning point within the driveway for convenience, and the driveway can easily accommodate several vehicles. Adjacent to the house is a pair of wrought iron gates, which give access to the courtyard-style parking area to the rear of the property. The courtyard is suited for three to four vehicles and provides access to the detached double garage, which benefits from an electrically operated up-and-over style door. There is a further store room, ideal as a cold storage or garden pantry, and a covered ornate seating area ideal for alfresco entertaining. A wood-built staircase leads to the first floor above the garage which is currently purposed as a hobbies room, but could easily be used to create a home/income suit. There is further covered storage alongside the garage and a pagoda with trellising has been constructed on the opposite side to create a further outside dining area. This features an active vine which brings character and charm to the environment. The rear garden is laid to lawn with a private and secluded feel. The front garden is also laid to lawn, with a large variety of flora and fauna, which gives a truly country cottage feel to the space, whilst having close travel connections to Bournemouth and Poole.
