DESCRIPTION

Located on the desirable South Street in Castle Cary is this delightful two bedroom end-of-terrace period cottage. Boasting a prime location within walking distance of the town centre, this characterful home offers the perfect blend of 18th Century living with modern amenities and easy accessibility to the towns shops, pubs and community.

Step inside to discover a warm and inviting living space, where original character features blend seamlessly within the more modern comforts. The spacious layout provides ample room to relax and entertain guests, coupled with natural light coming in from the windows to illuminate the charming exposed beams of the living room ceiling and other period details throughout such as the flagstone flooring and inglenook fireplaces.

The well-appointed kitchen is fitted with a gas AGA and allows for plenty of storage space and can be accessed separately via the dining room located parallel. Doors lead out to the private rear garden space which is currently used as a courtyard area.

Upstairs, you'll find two spacious bedrooms, each offering a fantastic amount of space that most modern homes are unable to match. The master bedroom boasts ample closet space while the second bedroom provides versatility as a guest room. One of the standout features of this property is its large footprint spanning approximately 121 square meters. It provides more than an adequate amount of space for comfortable living and entertaining.

Additionally, the home benefits from a privately shared lane, with access to the rear courtyard via a large wooden gate. Behind the gates is where there is scope for the potential allocation of a dedicated parking space to the rear of the property for a vehicle or two in tandem further adding convenience for residents and guests alike.

Other highlights of this charming cottage include gas-based central heating for year-round comfort and character features that add to the home's appeal without the restrictions of being a listed building. With its ideal location, spacious layout, and timeless charm, this period cottage on South Street is the perfect place to call home in Castle Cary. Don't miss your chance to make it yours and experience the magic this home can offer
