GENERAL

An outstanding offering to the marketplace, very rarely do these properties become available along Marine Terrace, one of the most sought after addresses within New Quay and the Cardigan Bay coastline in general.

The property offers spacious accommodation, a good level of living space complimented by large double bedrooms predominantly orientated to maximise the outlook over Marine Terrace.

There is potential to convert the attic space into additional bedroom accommodation (stc).

Externally, to the front a small patio area is provided which allows space for seating to overlook the view over the harbour. To the rear, an elevated garden is plateaued and tiered to provide varying levels of terraces, again orientated to maximise the outlook over the Bay. The summer house is located at this point, which is in need of a new roof.
