Location

Potton is an authentic Bedfordshire town located on the Cambridgeshire border, proud for its rich heritage. The market square is quaint and is enclosed by beautiful and architecturally rich structures, as well as a variety of shops and amenities, making Potton not only charming, but also a highly convenient spot. The town offers four public houses in the centre, including the 'Coach House', which is a fantastic premium pub/restaurant & hotel, as well as hot spot for the friendly community. The pub provides a high-end selection of beverages and gourmet dishes, as well as a warming atmosphere. Create memories and enjoy those catch ups with friends and family throughout all seasons, with outdoor seating areas to soak up the sun throughout summer, and cozy interiors to enjoy most notably throughout the winter. The town also contains a pre & primary school, a bakery, butchers, hairdressers, barbers (Casanova), Tesco & Co-op supermarkets, petrol station, car garage, vet, florist, dentist, doctors, multiple parks, take aways and more, not to mention, a popular Italian restaurant; 'O'Sarracino', which too, provides a refined and ambient dining experience.

Nature lovers can be astonished visiting the RSPB nature reserve, which lies between Potton and Sandy. Within, you can explore dense nature trails, spot an array of wildlife and admire impressive landscape sights. Potton naturally sits within proximity to the other neighbouring towns such as Sandy and Biggleswade, both of which also contain a wealth of shops, amenities and transport links. Both Sandy and Biggleswade have train stations, but the nearest trainline is in Sandy, which can be accessed in under ten minutes by car. Sandy train station provides regular journeys to London Kings Cross in approximately forty-five minutes, and the A1(M) is also only a short drive away. The main county town of Bedford can be reached in just under half an hour's drive, and the city of Cambridge can be reached by car in approximately thirty minutes as well.
