Bay View Road, Woolacombe, Devon, EX34 7DQ

Guide Price £650,000

Enviably located in an elevated position within a highly regarded private road and offering stunning beach, sea and coastal views from the front elevations, this extremely spacious, well presented and highly desirable property is further enhanced by a level and generous private patio approximately nine metres square from which to enjoy the delightful outlook as well as a wider than average designated parking space which even the most capacious 4x4 will fit into comfortably! Bentley Court began life in the Victorian era as a hotel, which helps explain why the rooms in this raised ground floor apartment are particularly impressive, as these would have been some of the main reception rooms welcoming well heeled guests in the 1800's. Today the accommodation comprises of a spacious entrance hallway, from which access is offered to the Sitting Room, a particularly light and spacious high ceilinged room with stunning sea and beach views and having sliding patio doors giving access to the sizeable private patio sun terrace providing a delightful, tranquil and sunny spot from which to drink in the far reaching views. Also accessed from the hallway is the Master Bedroom, a bay windowed room offering the same stunning sea views as the sitting room and providing a truly delightful place to wake up in! The third bedroom, which also a comfortable double, is next door to the Master and enjoys the same stunning views. Along the other side of the hallway is the second bedroom, a particularly spacious double, and a well appointed shower room as well as a useful storage/linen cupboard. Heading towards the kitchen, we find the family bathroom, a spacious room with corner bath and separate shower cubicle with skylight window, flooding the room with natural daylight. Finally there is the kitchen / dining room, a particularly characterful room where the Victorian feel is much in evidence, particularly with the sizeable fireplace/hearth that dominates the room. As well as the numerous cupboards and storage options there is also an open pantry providing much additional storage. To the outside, the substantial private patio sun terrace offers hypnotic views across Woolacombe beach to the sea and coastline beyond and is the perfect place for entertaining or relaxing, whilst the very useful and valuable designated parking space is opposite

In summary, a rare opportunity to acquire a substantial period apartment in a well maintained building within a private road setting and having the benefit of parking, suitable either as a wonderful full time home, second home or income producing investment - a rare opportunity
