ACCOMMODATION

A stunning Grade II listed timber framed and plastered property dating back to 16th/17th century period and which features a double-pitched tiled mansard roof. This beautiful home provides a wealth of charm and character with internal features which include exposed timber-framing, ceiling beams and joists and two original inglenook fireplaces with log burners.

The property features oil fired central heating and is superbly presented throughout and provides deceptively spacious living accommodation which on the ground floor comprises a large reception hall with exposed timbers and ample space for a study area. The main living room and separate dining room are both generously sized and feature dual aspect windows with exposed ceiling beams, brick inglenook fireplaces with oak beams and log burners, a 3rd reception room is currently used as a breakfast room by the current sellers and leads through into the fitted kitchen which features granite worktops and upstands with traditional farmhouse shaker style units and a full range of integrated appliances. A rear lobby adjacent to the kitchen provides additional external access and leads into a ground floor wc.

First floor accommodation features exposed timbers and a fireplace and there are three double bedrooms and one single bedroom, an en-suite shower room and a family bathroom.

Externally the property sits in an overall plot approaching one third of an acre. There is a high degree of privacy afforded to the owners as the cottage sits to the rear of the plot around 100ft back from the road. It is bordered by farmland and there are patio area to the side and rear which afford views over the farmland and take full advantage of the evening sunsets. There is a long shingle driveway providing extensive parking for numerous vehicles and a turning area as well as access to the detached garage and workshop. The beautiful lawned grounds enjoy a southerly aspect and feature an abundance of mature trees and shrubs as well as established beds and borders.
