GENERAL

Once in a while you will come across a property that blows you away ! This outstanding property is a modern yet character filled home. Benefits double glazing and oil central heating.

The front elevation windows and entrance door are in solid Oak and with solid Oak flooring to much of the internal accommodation. Nicely designed and sympathetically restored.

To the side of the residence is a substantial detached double garage, again with solid Oak front entrance doors and above is a secluded lovely balcony garden, south facing, a perfect private sitting space.

A newly constructed detached Garden Summer House or ideal Home Office/Studio etc.

One of the main selling points of Meddyg Y Mor is its stunning seaside location being only a stone's throw away from the Cardigan Bay coastline in the popular cove of Cwmtedu.

Surrounded by National Trust land surrounded by high pastures. The restored Lime Kiln marks the back of the beach which is commonly supposed to have been used for Smuggling.

Cwmtedu is popular with walkers and the beach gives easy access for launching of kayaks, paddle boarding etc.

The All Wales Coastal Path drops down into Cwmtedu by descending along the valley side and then returning to the coast to climb up towards New Quay to the North or Llangrannog to the south.

The beach and coves around Cwmtedu is the place to see the seals which is a popular place for them to rear their pups. A small rambling river flows down the valley through Cwmtedu to the sea.

This is truly an unspoilt idyllic place to be.

This property is only some 100 yards walk to the beach.
